CLARKSVILLE May 4 .- As the steamboat "City of Huntsville," was passing up below this place, a young man on board jumped from the deck into the river, and on rising to the surface, he deliberately took off his coat, drew a knife from his pocket, opened it and cut his throat. His wound is considered dangerous, though not immediately mortal.-He has heretofore been esteemed as a young man of fine sense. Sudden insanity is alleged as the cause of his conduct in this instance.

BALTIMORE, May 4 .- MEXICAN NEWS .- Santa Anna's reception at the city of Mexico, on the 18th, was enthusiastic. He was received with illuminations, the firing of cannon, and rejoicing. Triumphal arches were erected in all the towns on the road from Vera Cruz to the City of Mexico. Gov. Trias, in reply to Gov. Lane, says that the Northern boundary of Chihuahua was formerly much farther North than at present, that the treaty of Gaudaloupe Hidalgo, had removed it further south than ever, that if the territory was disputed, it had always remained in the peaceful possession of Mexico, and he concludes by asking Lane if he had the power to declare war.

The Mexican papers state that Judge Conkling had given the President the assurance that the United States Government would not sanction Lane's conduct

W. T. BERRY & CO. have this day received : YUSEF; OR, THE JOURNEY OF THE FRANGI. A Crusade in the East. By J. Ross Brown. Author of "Etchings of a Whaling Cruise" and "Crusoe Life," in Harper's Magnaine. With Illustrations.

"So racy and brilliant a book of Eastern travel has not appeared for a long time. Mr. Brown made his debut as an author some years ago, when he had scarcely passed his majority, in his "Etchings of a Whaling Cruise," which we recollect of noticing in terms of high commendation. His recent "Crusoe Life," in Harper's Magazine, gave promise of powers of observation and description which is amply confirmed in "Yusef." His style is marked by uncommon liveliness, often rising to rare vigor and eloquence."-New Fork Courier & Enquirer.

NEW BOOKS. STANDFIELD HALL. By J. P. Smith, Esq. AMY LAWRENCE. MINNIE GREY.

GUS. HOWARD. "There is still hope for English Literature so long as such works as "Minnie Grey" and "Gus Howard" shall continue to be written. The former we have wholly read; the lat-ter-which is a sequel to the first-we are now engaged in ter—which is a sequel to the first—we are now engaged in reading; and we must confess that we have rarely been so deeply entertained as in their perusal. "Minnie Grey," ta-ken as a literary performance, is well worthy of a place be-side the noble productions of Scott and Dumas; and, while it yields not in splendor of conception and fineness of exe-cution, to the ablest works of the former, it fully equals, if it never eclipses, the subtle interest which marks the creations of the latter. The story of Minnie Grey is one of uncommon power; and the rapidity with which it is caught up by the public from the counters of the booksellers is one of the strongest evidences in the world of its originality, interest and strength."—London Literary Gazette. ROSEMONT.

THE undersigned is induced to offer for sale, his country Residence and Farm, situated 31/2 miles from Nashville, on the Murfreesboro' Turnpike, and within a few min-utes walk of the N. & C. Railroad. It embraces between 75 and 90 acres, in about equal proportions, of beautiful wood-laud and cultivated land, in the highest state of improvement. A portion being well set in Timothy, Clover and Blue Grass, to which the soil proves admirably adapted, the whole sub-stantially fenced with cedar, and supplied in every direction with never-failing springs of the purest water.

The grounds about the buildings have been embellished with gravelled walks, falling garden, rich grass-plots, choice flowers, shrubbery and evergreens, while for the extent and variety of fruit trees, obtained without regard to cost, or labor, from the most approved nurseries, it is not exceeded by any in the country.

The buildings are extensive and convenient—barns, cribs, stables, carriage houses, servant's houses, gardiner's house, ice-house of large dimensions, spring house built of stone, over a spring of rare excellence, and furnishing a great abundance of water, a portion of which, by means of an Hudwards Person Hydrautic Ram, is conveyed directly to the dwelling, and there, after supplying the wants of the family, affording a surplus still, which is susceptible, at little cost, of being directed tomany purposes of ornament and utility. Besides these, the family dwelling, built in cottage style, having seven rooms, well arranged and occupying an eminence, unsur-passed for pure air and a charming landscape

For health, fertility, convenience to churches and schools, and good society in the country, it is not surpassed, and those in Nant of such a situation are invited to examine it. If sold early, I will sell also, my farming implement household furniture, and choice stock of various kinds, in
